LONG ISLAND SOUND. The Shallows More Perilous Than the

At many points along the sound, in the vicinity of Port Chester, good swim-mers can enjoy a plunge from the rocks into deep water, and avoid the wading process, which makes Coney Island and Rockaway unattractive for bathers who like to know that the sand is five fath-oms beneath their feet. One would naturally suppose, says the New York Sun, that greater danger exists in deep water bathing places than where an ordinary sized man has to walk out the eighth of a mile to submerge his shoul-ders; but this is not the fact, if the experience of a landlord who has kept a hotel on the Westchester shore of the hotel on the Westenesser and to sound for thirty years is to be trusted.

"Bless you, sir," said he, "we don't have a drowning accident here once in have a drowning accident here at Coney five years, and they have them at Coney listand about every week. You see, no-body but a fool would jump off those rocks unless he was a prime swimmer; and when the fool comes along and gets in there are always half a dozen fellowsthere that are as much at home swimming as walking, and he's sure to be fished out before he has time to drown. But in the surf at Coney Island it's likely enough that there won't be one good swimmer in fifty.

"But a greater danger than that of rowning lies in all sorts of sicknesses contracted by staying too long in the sea. In shallow water a man doesn't swim much, and there is nothing to tire him, so he often paddles about for more than an hour; but where he can't than an hour; but where he can't rest his feet on the bottom, and has to swim all the while, he is pretty sure to come out in a quarter of that time. He is fresh and warmed by his exercise in one case, and in the other he is faint and blue and shivering. I tell you, the shallows take fifty lives for one the leeps take."

"The papers had a story the other day e superstitious German fara Bucks county, who believed in s," said a wholesale milk dealer ers of Bucke in the Philadelphia Record, "and I had ap amusing experience with one of them early in the winter. For about a year he had been shipping me all the milk from his farm, and at the time I speak of the quantity decreased so much that I wrote to inquire the reason. He sent back word that his cows were bewitched, as were those of several of his neighbors, but that they were going to drive the evil spirits away on the following Saturday night.

"Curiosity took me out to his farm to see how he proposed to banish the witches, and I found a group of twenty or thirty men, women and children gathered outside of his large shed. Va rious cabalistic writings had been nailed to the door of the shed and in a large fron pot there was boiling about two gallons of milk, in which had been mixed a quantity of paris green. fumes of the boiling liquid were to poison the spirits that had been hover-ing around the cattle.

AT HAND

In a dangerous emergency, AYEN'S CHERRY PECTORAL is prompt to act and sure to cure. A dose taken on the first symptoms of Croup or Bronchitis, checks further progress of these complaints. It softens the philogm, soothes the inflamed membrane, and induces sieep. As a remedy for colds, coughs, loss of voice, is grippe, pneumonia, and even consumption, in its early stages.

AYER'S

Cherry Pectoral excels all similar preparations. It is endorsed by leading physicians, is agreeable to the taste, does not interfere with digestion, and needs to be taken usually in small doses

"From repeated tests in my own family, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has proved itself a very efficient remedy for colds, coughs, and the various disorders of the throat and lunes,"—A. W. Bartlett, Pittsfield, N. H.
